Nothing.

Blessed be nothing?" an old woman said, As she scrubbed away for her daily bread. "I'm better off than my neighbor the squire He's afraid of robbers, afraid of fire. Afraid of flood to wreck his mill, Afraid of something to cross his will. I've nothing to burn, and nothing to steal But a hit of pork and a barrel of meal;

A house that only keeps off the rain, Is easy burnt up and built again. Bleased be nothing ! My beart is light ; I sing at my washing, and sleep all night." "Blessed be nothing!" the young man cried,

As he turned with a smile to his smiling bride. "Banks are breaking and stocks are down: There's dread and bitterness all over town; There are brokers grouning and bankers sad, And men whose losses have made them mad; And many a woman we are fain be dead Whose little children sob and sling For the daily joy she cannot bring. Blessed be nothing, for you and me! "ave no riches on wings to fice."

Blessed be nothing ! if man might choose, For he who hath it hath naught to lose! Nothing to fear from flood or fire, All things to hope for and desire; The dream that is better than waking days, The future that feeds the longing gaze; Better, far better, than aught we hold, As far as mining exceedeth gold, Or hope fruition in earth below, Or peace that is in us outward show.

Almost, when worn by weary years, Tired with a pathway of thorns and tears, When kind red fail us, and love has fled, And we know the living less than the dead, We think that the best of mortal good Is a painless, friendless solitude. For the pangs are more than the peace they give Who make our lives so sad to live. Blessed be nothing ! it knows no loss, Nor the sharpest nail of the Master's cross; No friend to deny us, of none bereft, And though we have no one, yet God is left.

Yet, having nothing, the whole is ours. No thorns can pierce us who have no flowers. And sure is the promise of His word, Thy poor are blessed in spirit, Lord ! Whatever we lose of wealth or care, Still there is left us the breath of prayer-That heavenly breath of a world so high, Sorrow and sinning come not nigh; The sure and certain mercy of Him Who sitteth between the cherubin Yet cares for the lonely sparrow's fall, And is ready and eager to help us all. Rich is His bounty to all beneath; To the poorest and saddest He giveth death.

VARIETY.

Gen. Hood left nothing but his children. It is probable, therefore, that his will will not be contested. The watch word in the solid south: If any man attempts to vote outside the party, shoot him in the back. The London journals remark that Talmage's English trip was a dead failure, but Talmage smiles complacently and wreathes up his supple point with his index toe at the weil-

"Willie, my love." At the front gate two years after. She: "Bill, where are you going?" He: "None o' your business." My grandfather's hair was the glossiest kind of black, For many many years it was his pride,

Turned-White-Never turned black again,

And the old man dyed.

Cato, since deceased, said "that man approached nearest the gods who knew how to be silent even when he is right." We are now so godlike, then, sa, a the Hawkeye, as when the man who is' holding the other side of the argument is of an irascible temper, and weighs as much as three of Adversity has its use like any other disagreeable thing. The man who is never sick, never knows how good it is to have a troop of friends rush in and set down at his bed side and tell him in the most solemn manner that his doctor has lost at least three patients out of four all the year

FOR A DISH OF SCANDAL.-Take a handful of what she said, another of what he may have said, an ounce of what you and I said; flavour with a sprig of possibility, and two of probability; mix well together with a whisk of spite, in a bowl of jealousy, near a fire of supposed injury, till warm; and you will have a dish large enough for an ordinary ten-party.

Mrs A: "Somebody's in the next room. wonder what they're doing." (Looking wistfully at the keyhole.) "I've a good mind to peek." Mrs B. "Oh! I wouldn't; 'tisn't right." Mrs A: "I don't care; I'm just dying to know." (Puts eye to keyhole, but immediately takes it away, disconcerted.) "H'm! the key is in." Mrs B: "Yes, so I found before you

When asked at the table how you prefer a thing-for instance, if you will have cream on your berries, or sugar on your tomatoes, or what part of chicken you profer-make some choice. it is awkward to make other people choose for you. Do not say: " It makes no difference; I am not particular.

MPORTERS AND COMMISSION MER-A little boy, the son of an orthodox Presbyte-CHANTS, Corner of Fort and Merchant Streets. rian in this city, recently listened attentively to some conversation in regard to Jesus having been a Jew. At last he could stand it no longer and IMPORTER AND COMMISSION MER-CHANT. AGENT FOR Lloyds' and the Liverpool Underwriters, Northern Assurance broke out with: "Well, I don't see how that could be, when God, his father, was a Presbyterian."-N. Y. Commercial. The most original verdict was that of an Irish jury before whom a prisoner pleaded "Guilty," throwing himself upon the mercy of the Court. The verdict was "Not Guilty!" The Judge in surprise, exclaimed, "Why he has confessed his crime!" The foreman responded: "Oh, my lord, you do not know that fellow, but we do. He is the most notorious har in the whole country, and no twelve men who know his character can believe a word he says." So the prisoner escaped, as the jury adhered to their verdict.

A Lany in Portland, Me., called at a jewelry store and after making a purchase went home. Two hours later a messenger called at her house and informed her that she had left something at the jeweler's. "Now, let us see," she mused, "what can it can it be? Here is my pocket-book, and there on the sofa is my fan, and I have got my my gold watch here, and my bonnet, why, where is my bonnet? oh, there it is on the floor; it fell off the table-and really I can't think what I have forgotten—why to be sure! How absent minded I am! I declare if I haven't forgotten my darling, precious little babe!" And so she had-only that and nothing more.

OLD HICKORY'S BLUFF WAY .- Long years after the capture of Stony Point, when Andrew Jackson was President, a visitor at the White House remarked that the Postmaster in his town (who "held over") was an enemy of the President—and had been heard to call him a "scoundrel!" and urged the removal of the ill-mannered officer. "What sort of a person is he?" inquired the President. The visitor admitted that the Postmaster was an aged and honorable man, and incidently remarked that he was one of the surviwors of the Battle of Stony Point. "What?" said the President, rising from his chair, "Was he really with Anthony Wayne at Stony Point?" "He certainly was," replied the visitor. "Well, then," said Old Hickory, "he has a perfect right to call me a scoundrel every day in the week, and be Postmaster during his natural life."-Hartford Post.
